

Lab Practical 06 – Sketching, Wireframes

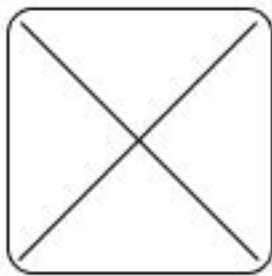

Complete task 01 and task 02 based on the scenario given on page2.

Sketching

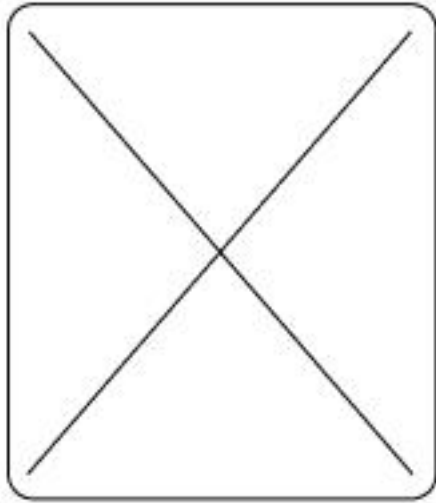

Sketching is a very efficient way of communicating design while allowing designers to try out a multitude of ideas and iterate them before settling on one.

Wireframes

Wireframing is a practice, mostly used by UX designers. This process allows all stakeholders to agree on where the information will be placed before the developers build the interface out with code.
